WEDNESDAY, APRIL 6, 1899.

SIX PAGES

Will anything drop to-day or any other day.

More of the fellows who are so glib about war will be the last to shoulder a musket.

GEN. SHERMAN SAYS: "war is hell" and we presume the General knows what he is talking about.

GOVERNOR BRADLEY has appointed Judge John Adair, of Hawesville, delegate to the International Mining Congress, which meets at Salt Lake City, Utah, July 6.

All those who subscribe for the News now will receive a copy of the handsome illustrated edition free. This offer holds good to subscribers who renew their subscriptions.

JOHN D. RABRAGE has been appointed a member of the committee on program for the coming Commercial Convention at Louisville. He will represent the Fourth District on that committee.

GEN. ADAIR in speaking of volunteers said: "I was a recruiting officer for the war with Mexico. We had a big rally at Hawesville, where over a thousand men volunteered their services, but when the time came to start and form the company, sixteen reported for duty. I succeeded in raising a company but I had to buy several men before I got the requisite number." The General thinks the same thing will happen now in case of war. When the test comes the men who are the talkers will not turn up for actual service.

ABOUT OURSELVES.

LAST week's edition of the News was one of the handsomest regular issues ever published by a weekly paper in Kentucky. The mails this week brought many letters of praise from our subscribers. One patron at Pueblo, Ind., renewed his subscription and in so doing stated that the News was an indispensable contributor to the happiness of his family. A Webster admirer of the paper says: "Last week's edition was splendid. No other country paper of equal merit ever came to my notice." Elsewhere can be found complimentary notices from our correspondents. It is such appreciation as this, uttered with sincerity, that gives a world of encouragement to the publisher. It is one of his greatest compensations. The News will ever set the pace toward realizing the ideal of country journalism and will strive to produce a paper each week that will merit the appreciation of its constituents. It will always live up to its motto, "All the news that's fit to print."

A BONANZA FOR ADVERTISERS.

The first two pages of the first section of the News' illustrated edition have been printed. The best of half-tone illustrations, the finest of tinted book paper and the most costly inks have been used, combined with artistic workmanship, the results are very happy. This will undoubtedly be the handsomest edition that has ever issued from any country newspaper office in the state of Kentucky. Over 10,000 copies of this beautiful souvenir will be circulated throughout the United States and several hundred in England and her colonies. The merchant who knows a good thing when he sees it, will readily appreciate the value of this edition as an advertising medium. A limited amount of space has been set aside for display advertisements and those who wish to utilize some of this space should send in their copy and make arrangements for the amount of display wanted. Those who come first will get preferred positions. A word to the wise is sufficient.

Deafness Cannot be Cured.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

A TERRIBLE TRAGEDY.

Big John Allen Ground to Pieces By a Train.

ACCIDENT OCCURRED ON SATURDAY.

Remains Were Found Sunday Partially Devoured by Hogs.

HELD $1,000 LIFE INSURANCE.

Big John Allen, of this city, met with a tragic death, by being literally ground to pieces by an Illinois Central train at Olaton, in Ohio county, Saturday night. It will be remembered that he had trouble with one of his sons Sunday night a week ago, at the short line round house. After the fight that occurred he began drinking and left home. On Friday he turned up at Fordville where he continued his spree. He met Conductor Riley, of the Illinois Central road at that point and was asked by the latter to get aboard the train, but he refused. This was the last that was seen of the unfortunate man until his mangled body was picked up along the track at Olaton.

How he met his death is a mystery. None of the train crew saw him on the track, and a young man named Bann, who conducts a store at Olaton, stood within twenty yards of where the terrible tragedy undoubtedly occurred but did not see the victim.

The accident occurred on Saturday and the remains were not found until Sunday morning. Judging from the condition of the remains Allen must have laid down on the track and the train passed over him. The body was literally ground to pieces. Portions of it were scattered along the track for a distance of fifty yards.

One of the most terrible features of the tragedy developed when the search for missing portions of the remains was instituted. It was found that hogs had devoured a portion of the body and a section of the vertebrae, that had been carried away by the animals was found on the banks of the creek, fifty yards away.

A portion of the waistband of the victim's trousers was found sticking to a car-wheel of a Chesapeake & Ohio freight car that formed part of the train. The pocket attached to the band was found to contain a nickel in money and several other articles.

After the remains were found, the coroner was notified and an inquest held. The verdict found that Allen met his death by being accidentally run over by train 402 on the Illinois Central road. The corporation and its employees were held blameless.

John Allen, better known as "Big John," was one of the best railroad men in this section. He was formerly employed by the Breckenridge Cannel Coal Company, but was unemployed at the time of his death.

He was buried Monday at Rosine, his wife and family being present at the interment. It is said that he held $1,000 insurance in the Fraternal Mystic Circle.

H. L. Stader, representing the local lodge of that order went to Horse Branch Monday to attend the funeral.

Vennie Moorman has purchased a bicycle, much to the amusement of spectators. He and Sidney Owen are trying to learn to ride it.

Buck Moorman is thoroughly business like in his make-up, and his present big mercantile business, his tobacco buying, dealing in timber, his building preparatory to bringing on a larger stock and a greater variety of goods than ever before, entitle him to be named with Breckenridge's most enterprising men.

I will pay cash for produce. Do not buy goods in my line until you get my price. I not only sell goods as cheap as any store in Glendene, but will sell as cheap as any store in the county. I charge nothing for ordering goods for customers.—Julian Brown.

MIRACULOUS

Was Walter Smart's Escape From Death.

Fell Between Two Cars and Sustained Severe Injuries.

Walter Smart, one of the most popular young men of this city, had a most miraculous escape from death last week. When near Marengo, Ind., a town on the L. & N. railroad, about eight miles east of New Albany, he attempted to pass from one coach to another while the train was running at a speed of forty-five miles an hour. Just as he did so, the train struck a curve and low joint, and the consequent lurch it gave caused Mr. Smart to lose his balance so that he fell forward, and partially hung between the cars. He struck on his elbow and it was only by the exercise of rare presence of mind and superhuman strength that he saved himself from dropping to the road bed and being ground to pieces on the track. He sustained severe injuries the cap of his right shoulder being broken and the muscles of his arm being torn away.

Walter Smart is representing the Vantage-Grant Shoe Company, of St. Louis, and has been compelled to lay off on account of his injuries.

Two years ago R. J. Warren, a druggist at Pleasant Brook, N. Y., bought a small supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Where ever the good qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy become known the people will have nothing else. For sale by A. R. Fisher, Cloverport, and R. A. Shellman, Stephensport.

Gents:—I have every confidence in recommending your Syrup of Pepsin. I am 72 years of age and am broken down, the trouble having been brought on by my experience in the war. Your medicine has done me more good than a hundred doctors and I am just about well of stomach troubles.

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT.

The following preamble and resolutions of respect on the death of Lena Hardaway, were unanimously adopted by the Breckinridge News and Made County Messenger.

Whereas, it has pleased Almighty God, in His Providence to remove from our midst our little sister, Lena Hardaway, at the age of 6 years, 1 month and 10 days, and

Whereas, Little Lena was a member of our Sunday School, always prompt, cheerful and kind, ever ready to take her place in her class, therefore be it

Resolved, That while the Sabbath School has lost in her one of its brightest little members, the father mother a sweet, loving daughter, brother and sister a kind and loving sister, and the community a dear little pet, we, as a Sabbath School, will cherish a fond recollection of her childish virtues and how in submission to the will of the Great Head of the Sunday School and church.

That we sincerely sympathize with the family and pray that they may recognize a loving Father's hand in this bereavement.

That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes-book of the school, a copy be given to the parents, and that they also be published in the Breckinridge News and Made County Messenger.

The Kidneys

are the seat or the starting point of many maladies, all of them serious, all more or less painful, and all of them tending, unless cured, to a fatal end. No organs of the body are more delicate or more sensitive than the kidneys. When symptoms of disease appear in them not a moment is to be lost if health is to be restored. The best way to treat the kidneys is through the blood, cleansing it from the poisonous matter which is usually at the bottom of kidney complaints. For this purpose there is no remedy equal to

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"For many years I have been a constant sufferer from kidney trouble, and have tried a number of largely advertised kidney cures without benefit. At last a friend advised me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. The use of eight bottles of this remedy entirely cured my malady."—MARY MILLER, 1233 Hancock Street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

AWFUL.

Catastrophe In Which Hundreds Loose Their Lives.

Shawneetown, Ill., Swept Completely Out of Existence.

OHIO BREAKS THROUGH A LEVEE.

EVANSVILLE, IND., April 4.—At 7 o'clock Sunday afternoon the levee which surrounded the town of Shawneetown, Ill., and kept the water of the flood from it, gave way and the raging waters rushed in, giving the people no warning of their doom.

Half the houses were washed away in half an hour. The lights were all put out and the town was in the darkness of Egypt, so that the people could not see in what direction safety might lie. There was no living soul left in a one-story house. The houses that were two stories high were covered with struggling, frantic human beings, many of whom had to remain in their perilous positions until long after midnight, and some there were who were not rescued until after daylight.

There was no help for the people at home, and the telephone and telegraph communication was cut off in the first few minutes of the catastrophe. The telephone operator there called up the Evansville operator and said the levee was broken and hundreds were drowning. The voice stopped in the middle of a sentence, and the operator may have perished at her post.

The noon bulletin from Shawneetown says that four hundred bodies have been recovered and three hundred are yet among the missing. There are no coffins to bury the dead and in many families there is no one left to mourn.

The survivors are left on the hilltops at the back of the town and on the tops of a few houses in the highest part of the place. They are without food or shelter and in the cold are suffering terribly.

Thirty-five years make a generation. That is how long Adolph Fisher, of Zanesville, O., suffered from piles. He was cured by using three boxes of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve.—Short & Haynes.

A Genuine Good Time.

There came up from Lewisport on last evening, twenty members of the A. O. U. W. Lodge, of that place, who came to assist the lodge of this city in the initiation of seven new members. This order is rapidly growing and becoming exceedingly popular as an institution of insurance. This lodge has a membership of some seventy or eighty charter members. After the regular routine work of the order, an elegant reception was tendered the visiting lodge. A good old time was enjoyed and beautiful and touching music was rendered by the brass band of Lewisport, who are all members of the order. Sometime during this month this lodge will give the public a series of entertainments, which they have been practicing and rehearsing for months to make it a success.

Children like it, it saves their lives, we mean One Minute Cough Cure, the infallible remedy for coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis, grippe, and all throat and lung troubles.—Short & Haynes.

A Noted Lecturer.

All are respectfully invited to attend. There will also be Lenten services at St. Rose to-night at 7:30.

It is a great leap from the old fashioned doses of blue-moss and nauseous physics to the pleasant little pills known as DeWitt's Little Early Risers. They cure constipation, sick headache and biliousness.—Short & Haynes.
